Beginning >

THE ACTION BEGINS!

The Dreamer Designs is a New Delhi, India based design studio started in June 2012 by Nishant Sapra. Born out of love for design and aimed to relish. Back then there were not many design centric studios and there was a storm of me-too template based software companies. It was a little revolution of sorts to say to industry that a good design exists and holds a value.

A digital studio was born to make the world more beautiful with the power of design.

Journey

FROM THIS MOMENT TO NEXT

The story starts back to 1992 in the era of black and white computers at a store room of small house in Delhi. A little young boy, privileged to have a computer at home fell in love with it.

Love for design and animation was natural and passion took over other obvious choices of life and a designer was born. In 2005, it started with first freelance logo design project.

After exploring various aspects of design in 7 years of job,
Nishant Sapra formed The Dreamer Designs on June 6, 2012

A dream was born and it lives strong each day

The Present >
